Mountain Line Bus Change Alleviating Late Night Pedestrian Traffic on High Street

The stop was changed to prevent crowds gathering at the intersection of High and Wall Streets.

MORGANTOWN – The Morgantown Police Department is happy to announce that a recent bus stop change downtown has helped alleviate dangerous pedestrian crowding late at night.

On November 9, 2011, the Mountain Line Transit Authority approved a move of the late-night downtown bus stop (which runs from 10 p.m. until 3 p.m., Thursday through Saturday) from the corner of High Street and Wall Street to the Courthouse Plaza.

Sergeant Scott Carl was on late-night downtown duty in November when the changes took place and says the new stop is working out well.

“It’s alleviating the problem,” Carl said. “We’re never going to get rid of traffic congestion in that area, but having the people gathering further down the street has helped.”
