If I was mayor I would say college athletes be payed. Because they sell tickets for games and they can get hurt. Cause when they sell tickets the people who sell the tickets get the money. I think the college athletes should get some of the money the tickets sell for. Because they put there best effort into it. Its also when they get hurt they could twist an ankle or even break a bone! The people selling the tickets are just sitting there while the college athlets are running and ther heads off. That is why I think college athlets should be paid.
