

Morgantown, WV Ranked 81st Best Place in the Country for EMTs and Paramedics

New analysis by data-science team at GoodCall ranks the Morgantown area a top place in the U.S. for EMTs and paramedics to live and work

September 30, 2015 - Fort Mill, S.C., GoodCall : A new report released this week from the GoodCall data research team ranks Morgantown as the #81 best place in the U.S. for EMTs and paramedics.

The report analyzed EMT and paramedic salaries, cost of living and job availability, as well as local amenities, to find out which U.S. cities provide the best backdrop for a career as an emergency medical responder.

The Morgantown area was included in GoodCall's rankings due to competitive emergency responder salaries, as well as affordable housing, attractive amenities and a healthy job market. Morgantown area emergency responders make an average salary of $31,940, and the area ranked 29 out of 750 for employment attractiveness.

“Emergency medical technicians and paramedics are the first ones to the scene in the event of a medical emergency, and they have one of the most stressful jobs,” says Paul Southerland, Lead Analyst at GoodCall. “Our goal was to identify the places where EMTs and paramedics can make a great living with affordable housing and a comfortable lifestyle.”

The report analyzed a total of 750 cities across the U.S. The rankings were based on data gathered from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, The U.S. Census Bureau, and job search site Indeed.com.
